WHEAT ACREAGE GREATEST EVER

CONDITION POOREST IN ENTIRE HISTORY OF THE COUN-TRY.

RYE PROSPECTS GOOD

Billion Bushels of Grain Planned For Allied Countries Get Hard Jolt.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Government plans for a billion-bushel wheat crop next year to help the United States feed its allies have received a setback. It was disclosed to-day by the December crop report of the Department of Agriculture that while winter wheat was planted on the largest acreage ever sown to that cereal its condition on December 1 was the lowest on record for that date.

A winter crop of 540,000,000 bushels was forecast by the Bureau of Crop Estimates. The actual production will be greater or less than that quantity according as conditions hereafter are better or worse than average. Through a great spring crop it still is hoped to bring the year's total to somewhere near the billion mark.

Mark Set by Government.

An area of more than 47,000,000 acres was the mark set by the Government for farmers to plant to winter wheat this fall, but the December canvass shows that 42,170,000 acres were sown. The farmers did their best, Department of Agriculture officials say, but conditions were against them. The very dry weather in most of the winter wheat belt was a large drawback, while late harvest of other crops and shortage of farm help were contributing causes for the failure.

Should the winter wheat crop mature to 540,000,000 bushels as forecast to-day it would be the third largest of record, being exceeded only by the crops of 1914 and 1915.
Government officials had figured on having winter wheat production reach 672,000,000 bushels, but to-day's forecast indicates that it will fall 132,000,000 bushels short of that figure. Indications are that rye production will be 25,000,000 bushels larger than last year's record crop.

Planning Larger Acreage.

Already steps are being taken for a large increase in the acreage of the spring wheat crop to be planted next spring. Council of National Defense and Department of Agriculture officials have conferred and will adopt measures to insure an adequate labor supply for planting operations, ample supplies of seed wheat and help for harvesters. The largest spring wheat crop heretofore was in 1915, when 351,354,000 bushels were harvested from 19,161,000 acres.

HEAVY FIRE IS POURED INTO AIR RAIDERS

London, Dec. 13.—German aeroplanes raided English coast towns tonight. Some of the raiders reached London, where they were met with a heavy fire. Numerous bombs were dropped.

An official announcement of the raid says:

"Hostile aeroplanes crossed the Essex and Kent coast about 6:15 o'clock and proceeded toward London. Some of the raiders reached the London district and dropped bombs. Bombs also were dropped in Kent and Essex.

"Reports of casualties and damage have not yet been received. Our guns and aeroplanes were both in action."

TEST VOTE WON BY SUFFRAGE WORKERS

Washington, Dec. 18.—Vote in the House on the woman suffrage constitutional amendment Thursday, January 10, was assured today when the rules committee agreed on that date.

On a test vote today, indicating sentiment in the House toward the woman suffrage constitutional amendment, the suffragists polled seven more than a two-thirds vote. The question was on referring suffrage resolutions to the new woman suffrage committee, as the suffragists wished, instead of the elections committee, as the anti-suffragists asked.

An effort was made by Representative Kitchen today to increase the number of members of the House Woman Suffrage Committee by one to provide a place for Representative London, New York, Socialist. It was blocked by an objection.

WHO OWNS THE MULES

Several head of mules are in the hands of the Sheriff here, the ownership of which seems to be involved in some obscurity. Charlie Turner came here the first of the week and bought a number of mules which were subsequently levied on to satisfy a judgment of court in favor of Andy Alford, of Rosine, for about $700. Turner had given his personal check in payment for the mules and when four of them were taken in charge by the officer he called up the Owensboro bank, upon which the checks had been drawn, and ordered the bank not to pay the checks. Turner claims he was buying the mules for another party and that he was checking against the other man's money, and that the money was not subject to his own liabilities. In the meantime the former owners of the mules have neither money nor mules, and scarcely know where they are at. The courts will be called upon to find owners for the orphan mules, as well as money for the mule-less men.

A HOME GIRL HONORED

Miss Annie Laurie Allen, formerly of this city, has been designated Public Service Nurse for the city of Frankfort. Miss Allen graduated at the Henderson Hospital several years ago, and later went to Frankfort, where she was associated for several years with the Kings Daughters' Hospital. Later she adopted private work, and her services were in constant demand with the best people of the Capital city, until she was recently asked by the city authorities to accept the very responsible position of taking supervision of the city work.
Miss Allen is a lady of superior intelligence and lofty notions of man's duty to man, and richly deserves the honor that comes to her in her adopted city.

CELEBRATING HIS BIRTHDAY.

Floyd Elmore, a Butler county youth who was on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Bradley at Beaver Dam, was a victim of mistaken identity as well as of a couple of pistols, while celebrating his sixteenth birthday Tuesday. Sheriff Keown had a writ for a young man whose face was not familiar to him, and while on the lookout for his man, young Elmore was pointed out to him as possibly the man wanted. The Sheriff after taking the young man in tow found that he was not the youth wanted, but upon searching him found a couple of big guns on the boy, which made him a man if not the man wanted, and brought him before Judge Wilson. The judge was inclined to the opinion that two pistols were entirely too many for a youth of his age to carry, and fined him fifty dollars and the trimmings. Papa Elmore arrived upon the scene at an opportune time, paid the fine and took the boy home. We understand the Elmore are excellent people and that the boy's load of shooting irons was a matter of youthful folly, rather than of any inclination to maim and mutilate his fellow citizens.

OFFICIALS QUALIFY.

Jailer Worth Tichenor, Sheriff S.
A. Bratcher, County Judge Mack Cook and Superintendent E. S. Howard have filed their bonds with the County Court, and have taken the oath of office, preparatory to entering upon their official duties the first Monday in January. An officer elect may file his bond and take the qualifying oath of office at any time after receiving his certificate of election.

HELP THE LADIES.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold their annual exchange at Williams' Drug Store to-day. Many attractive and useful articles will be on display, and Christmas present hunters will find many things to interest them. It will be given as a church benefit and should have a liberal patronage.

ASSESSMENT BUNGLED

The Property in Only a Few Precincts Has been Assessed for Taxation For 1918 Tax Lists.

We are informed that less than one-fourth of the county has so far been assessed, and as only a few days remain in which the work can be done it is apparent now that the Assessor can not complete the work in the time prescribed by law, which is January 1st. We are not advised just how the trouble can be remedied.
If an individual fails to list his property with the assessor the law provides he shall go before the County Court Clerk and make out his list, and we presume the number of taxpayers would in no way change the manner of assessing those omitted.
If this condition is true then several thousand taxpayers may have to go before the clerk and making out their tax lists.

We understand the Assessor's failure to get the assessment made is due to the fact that he could not employ deputies to do the work. The new assessment schedule, which involves the labor of asking the property owner to answer more than a thousand questions, is so perplexing to both the deputy and the taxpayer that men declined to accept the work for the remuneration the Assessor could afford to pay. The Assessor, Mr. Charlie Hines, is under bond with a Guaranty Co., to faithfully perform the duties of his office, but as Hines is a poor man with only one leg, the public will be inclined to sympathize with him, and lay the chief blame for the trouble on the Legislature that passed the crazy assessment law.

"DRY" BILL WILL BE PUT UP TO STATES

Washington, Dec. 18.—The constitutional amendment for national prohibition was today finally submitted by Congress to the states, for ratification or rejection within seven years. The Senate completed congressional action by accepting the resolution as passed yesterday by the House, 47 to 8, without a rollcall.
Immediately after the Senate con-venced, Senator Sheppard, of Texas, called up the national prohibition amendment and moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments.
Vice President Marshall ruled that a two-thirds vote would be required for concurrence.

FISH BY HYDRANT.

When Commonwealth's Attorney Claude Smith arrived home for dinner last Friday the good wife who presides over his domestic affairs called his attention to a school of real live little fishes in the kitchen sink, which had arrived by the way of the hydrant. Mr. Smith cautioned his wife to say nothing about the incident lest water Baron Barras put in an extra charge for the fish.

STATE OF SIEGE ON PETROGRAD PROCLAIMED

Petrograd, Dec. 19.—The Executive Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies has proclaimed a state of siege in Petrograd in an effort to repress disorders due to the looting of wine cellars and shops.

LOCAL BOARD BUSY

Mailing Out Questionnaires to The Two Thousand Men Drafted For Army Service.

The Local Exemption Board began Saturday mailing questionnaires to the men recently drafted for army service. The answers of the men to this list of questions will classify them for their order of call to service. It will require about twenty days to mail out the entire list. The form must be filled out and returned to the board within seven days of the date it was mailed out. The filling out of this form does not necessarily require the service of a lawyer.
Anyone acquainted with legal forms may do it. No postage is required for mailing the form back to the board.

All men, including those formerly exempted for any cause, will be required to fill out this form.

The War Department has decided to divide the men into five classes, and the men will be called to service when needed according to the order in which they are classified.

CLASS ONE—Single men without dependents. Married men who have failed to support their families. Married men dependent on wife for support. Married men, family supported by independent income. Unskilled farm laborer. Unskilled industrial laborer. Registrant who has claimed no deferred classification.
Registrant who fails to submit questionnaire. All registrants not included in other divisions.

CLASS TWO—Married man with children or dependent. Men whose income is not mainly dependent on support, whose income is available and the registrant will be dependents of support.
Without children whose income is not mainly dependent on support, whose income is available and the registrant will be
dependents of support.

CLASS THREE—Man standing in relation of parent to children not his own. Man with dependent helpless brothers or sisters. County or municipal officers. Highly trained policemen or firemen, 3 years in service of municipality. Necessary employees of U. S. mail service. Necessary employes of United States. Necessary assistant, associate, or hired manager of necessary agricultural enterprise.

CLASS FOUR—Man whose wife or children are mainly dependent on his labor for support. Necessary sole managing, controlling or directing head of necessary agricultural enterprise. Man bearing similar relation to industrial enterprise.

CLASS FIVE—Officers of the United States Government. Regular ordained ministers. Students who on May 15, 1917, were preparing for the ministry in recognized school. Persons in military or naval service. Persons totally and permanently physically or mentally unfit for military service. Persons morally unfit to be a soldier.

JAMES I. MORTON DEAD.

James I. Morton, a well known citizen of the Fordsville community, died at his home Tuesday night. Mr.
Morton was about seventy years old, and had been sick for some time before his death. We were unable to get information of the funeral arrangements. Mr. Morton had been a successful farmer, and was well known and a highly respected citizen.

He made the race for the Republican nomination for Jailer in this county about twenty years ago, and came within a few votes of winning the nomination. He was a brother of the Rev. Thomas Morton, a merchant of Oaks, in the northern part of the county. Mr. Morton had long been a member of the Baptist church and was prominent in its councils. Because of his unusual height, nearly seven feet, the Fordsville undertakers, Fuqua & Walker, anticipating his death and not having in stock a casket of suitable size, made a special order for one before his death.

DR. RILEY PROMOTED.

Information has just been received here that Dr. A. B. Riley, who recently entered the military service as a Lieutenant in the Medical Corps, at Indianapolis, Indiana, and was later transferred to Camp Taylor, has been promoted to the rank of Captain. This promotion, coming so soon after his entry into the military service, is a splendid testimonial to the Captain's ability and devotion to duty, and will be pleasing news to his numerous friends in Ohio county. We are always pleased to learn that our home dogs are running in the lead.

LODGE NOTES.

Hartford Lodge No. 675, F. & A.
M., held an important and interesting session on last Monday night. Much business was transacted and three candidates were given the Third or Master's degree. Hartford Lodge No. 675, is doing quite a lot of work and is doing it in fine style.

A special meeting will be held this evening for the purpose of conferring the E. P. degree.

The annual election of officers will be held next Thursday at one o'clock
p. m.

Rough River Lodge No. 110, held a good convention on last Tuesday night. Routine business only, was dispatched, but the session was interesting in many ways, quite a few of the older heads were welcome participants in the business of the evening.

Keystone Chapter No. 110, was in regular convocation on Wednesday night. While the attendance was small, yet a good meeting was had.
Two candidates were promoted to the degree of Mark Master. Keystone Chapter will hold a special convocation at an early date for the purpose of conferring the M. M. degree on the candidates.

ROBERT L. BARNES IS MADE MAJOR IN ARMY

RESIGNS AS CHIEF OF FEDERAL DISTRICT BUREAU OF IN-VESTIGATIONS.

Robert L. Barnes, for four years chief of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, San Antonio district, has resigned that position and has been commissioned a major in the regular army. He has been detailed to duty as chief intelligence officer, Southern Department headquarters, remaining in San Antonio.
Charles E. Breniman, for a number of years connected with the Bureau of Investigation, will succeed Mr.
Barnes as chief. The change will be effective Saturday, November 10.

Major Barnes in turn will succeed Col. Monroe McFarland, who is made chief of staff, Southern Department. Colonel McFarland had been acting chief of staff since the promotion and transfer from the department of Col. Malvern-Hill Barnum. Colonel Barnum was promoted to the rank of brigadier general, and assigned to duty with the Eighty-sixth division, national army.

Major Barnes has served the Bureau of Investigation since February 12, 1912, when he first came to San Antonio. In December, 1913, he was made chief of the bureau and has held the position since. Prior to coming here he was with the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington. He has had actual army experience, having served two years and ten months with the army in the Philippines. He was a sergeant in Company B, 27th infantry, serving in the islands from March, 1901, to January, 1904.

His work in the department as chief intelligence officer will be in line with that he has been called upon to perform while in the Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Breniman has been with the Bureau of Investigation since 1912.
Prior to coming to San Antonio he was in charge of the Houston office, which is in this district. He was one of the men who worked up the "Farmers and Laborers" cases at Abilene.—San Antonio (Texas) Express.

Major Barnes is an Ohio county boy, being the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver H. Barnes, of High View. His many friends here will be pleased to learn of his promotion and advancement.

METHODIST ORPHANS HOME.

To the friends and those interested in the Methodist Orphans Home: In our interest and enthusiasm for our soldiers, let's not forget our little folks. A special service has been arranged for the church next Sunday evening by the Epworth League and they are asking you and every other friend of the children to make some contribution to the home. So please have your contribution ready by Saturday morning, when a committee of Leaguers will call on you for it.
You can contribute in any amount and of anything that can be used in a well regulated home. Canned goods, potatoes, beans, sugar, coffee, molasses, meat or meal, or any other thing of value. When it is all in it will be expressed to the home.

You will be interested to know that there are three children from Ohio county in the home.

POOLING HOUSES OPEN.

The pooling houses at Hartford, Narrows, and Fordsville opened for receiving tobacco yesterday, and a good stripping season now would result in a rush of tobacco to market.

The pool was sold to Gorman & Company, and S. B. Lee will receive the tobacco for the company at Narrows and Fordsville, and S. T. Burns & Son will do the receiving at the Hartford house. O. R. Tinsley was selected as grader at Hartford, Guy-man Westerfield at Narrows and James Weathers at Fordsville.

LAST CHILD DIES.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Word, of Lafayette, Ind., brought the remains of their child here for burial last Friday. This is the third and last child of these parents to die of scar-fever within the past four years.
Mrs. Word is the daughter of Mr. L.
D. Bennett, of near Boda.

AIRMAN AT GREAT ALTITUDE FAINTS

AVIATORS ON WESTERN FRONT HAVE THRILLING FIGHTS WITH ENEMY.

Behind British Lines in France, Nov. 20.—Stories of daring escapades of British aviators, exciting aerial combats from which the air-fighters escaped alive seemingly only by miracle and of brilliantly executed raids upon German aerodromes and troops behind the German lines are narrated in the reports of the Royal Flying Corps covering the activities of about one week. Hair-raising incidents of fierce conflicts above the clouds or low over the German communication lines are described in these succinct reports without bombast, as tho these narrow escapes from death were commonplace and all in the day's work of the air-fighter.

For example, there was the case of a British aviator who, when nearly a mile above the earth, was attacked by two enemy aircraft. He shot down one of them out of control, but was himself wounded and fainted while still high in the air. Recovering consciousness, he found his machine upside down at an elevation of 4,000 feet with one enemy aircraft still firing at him. The Britisher, however, managed after a struggle to right his machine and land safely.

Pilot Faints.
In somewhat similar instance, a German scout attacked a British airplane carrying a pilot and observer. One of the German's bullets passed thru the gasoline tank of the British airplane and seriously wounded the pilot. The British observer, however, pumped a full double drum of bullets at the enemy scout at very close quarters and the German went to the ground with a crash.

Meanwhile the British pilot had fainted and fallen against the steering "stick" in such a fashion as to throw the airplane into a spin. The British observer climbed over the side and forward along the plane to the pilot's cockpit, lifted the pilot to his seat and, still standing on the wing of the plane, released the steering gear, brought the machine out of the spin and safely to the ground.

Two British officers were returning from an expedition over the enemy's lines to locate hostile batteries when their machine was hit by anti-aircraft fire and the engine damaged. Volplaning, the machine landed 300 yards from the British lines, the airplane turned over and the aviators were hurled out on the German side of a canal. Running along the beach under heavy fire from rifles and machine guns, the aviators divided into the canal only to find it full of barbed wire, but managed to reach the British lines in safety.

Many instances illustrating the reckless daring of the British aviators sent over the German lines to obtain information, destroy aerodromes and harry the German reserves are contained in the official narratives.

One pilot who crossed the lines at Ypres threw off the attacking machines, bombed the Houle aerodrome near Lille and was fired upon by two machine guns. He dived at one of them, firing with both guns of the British airplane, drove the Germans from their guns, fired upon the aerodrome again, attacked and scattered a column of 200 German infantrymen on the road. A German two-seater airplane was circling 500 feet above him for an attack. "I zoomed up under its tail and fired into it," writes the British aviator. "It crashed down onto the railway."

Another British pilot had fired a hundred rounds on German troops on the march when he was interrupted by two enemy airplanes. He attacked them and drove both down and then finished the job of driving the German infantry into trenches and shell-holes.

Flying at the height of 200 feet a British aviator engaged in a revolver duel with two German officers in a motor and while doing so ran into some lines of telegraph wires, but fortunately his machine cut them. A few minutes later he attacked German infantry which escaped his gun only by diving into a pond.

FRENCH TO RAISE MANY SUNKEN SHIPS

Paris, Dec. 15.—The French government is about to take up the question of salvaging the numerous wrecks lying off Belle Isle, among them that of the steamer Kusan, the first American transport (not a troopship) to go to the bottom. The Kusan, a large ship of 12,000 tons, lies in only sixty feet of water, the tops of her four masts plainly visible to all approaching ships, her wireless telegraphy apparatus stretching still unbroken, between the steel fingers that point from beneath the water.

After passing safely thru the submarine zone, the Kusan struck a mine on July 9 and foundered, carrying down a cargo worth $5,000,000 in steel, bags of flour, barrels of oil and numerous other necessities that a war without pity has enhanced the value of tenfold to France. It has been determined that almost the whole cargo is still contained in the hull, the explosion having opened a gaping hole, thru which only a small quantity of bags and casks escaped. The ship rests on a bed of sand that holds her in an upright position and it would be easy for divers to reclaim a large part of her cargo.

Within a radius of four square miles in the straits between Belle Isle and the mainland lie the wrecks of at least five other large ships, all of which might be salvaged without great difficulty and which represents a value of $18,000,000 and a tonnage of 35,000.

U. S. TAKES OVER FRENCH AIR CORPS

Paris, Dec. 15.—Official dispatches have just arrived at the headquarters of the American expeditionary force in France authorizing the United States army to take over the Lafayette Escadrille from the French army.

All of the American youths who volunteered as pilots in the French service will receive commissions in the United States army. Lieut. William Thaw, of Pittsburgh, who organized the American Escadrille as the unit was called at first and who has been in command since Capt. Thénault left it, will be made a major in the United States army. Sub-Lieut. Raoul Lufbery, of Wallingford, Conn., who is credited with destroying fifteen German aeroplanes, will also be made a major.

Sergt. Kenneth Marr, of San Francisco; Sergt. Dudley Hill, of Peekskill, N. Y.; Adjt. Walter Lovell, of Concord, Mass., and Sergt. Robert L. Rockwell, of Cincinnati, will be made captains and will be placed in charge of the first four escadrilles put in the field by the United States army.

The other members of the Lafayette Escadrille, who have not been in the service as long as the six above mentioned, will be commissioned as first lieutenants and will probably be in command of escadrilles also.

The Lafayette pilots have already ordered their khaki uniforms cut along the lines prescribed in the United States Signal Corps, to replace the horizon-blue uniforms they have been wearing as French pilots.

FAMINE IN ATHENS IS GROWING WORSE

Athens, Dec. 15.—The famine conditions in Athens are becoming more and more severely felt. Popular discontent is beginning to find an outlet in mutterings, which threaten to develop into a roar. The remaining partisans of the old regime are finding fertile ground among the almost starving people for the fomenting of discontent. The kept well in hand up till now by a strong government, the malcontents may become desperate. If they do, the result may be far-reaching.

Five months have passed since the raising of the allies' blockade and a state almost of famine still exists. Food is so scarce that recently I saw even goats' lights being sold in the market for human consumption at 30 cents a pound.

The Greek soldier will fight when his own stomach is empty, but his mind must be at ease concerning his family. Nothing is more demoralizing to him than uncertainty as to the welfare of those left behind. A fit of patriotic enthusiasm inspires the younger classes of the army, but the older classes with families require something more substantial. And they form the bulk of the army.

DRAFTED MEN FOR THE SIGNAL CORPS

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY WILL LIKELY STRAIN QUOTA FOR ARMY.

The University of Kentucky has been requested by the War Department to consider the matter of training a quota of the enrolled draft of the State for service in the Signal Corps of the National Army and the interest of the citizens subject to the next call is especially invited to this proposed course.

The Signal Corps requires the Services of thousands of trained men. It is important that they be capable telegraphers. Men who attain proficiency as telegraphers and otherwise qualified for service in this branch of the army are certain of rapid promotion as the number of officers and non-commissioned officers is large in proportion to the total. High class men are desired because the work is confidential and largely dependent upon individual effort. This service is responsible for the transmission of information and is a most important factor in successful movements in the field.

The intention of the course is to train citizens of the State who are enrolled for the draft for higher positions than they will attain without such efforts and also to furnish its fair share of the large number required in this branch of the service. Upon receiving a certificate of proficiency he is entitled when duly called to enrollment in the Signal Corps and to assignment to that branch of the service. The work affords good training and experience that will be of value after return to civil life.

Lieut. Colonel L. D. Wildman, Department Signal Officer, writes as follows about our proposed course: "This will be of wonderful advantage to the men of your State who receive the course as it will place them in line for earlier promotion, besides being of assistance to the army by preparing the men to such a high degree."

Any college work is an advantage to a progressive young man. The work in radio electrical engineering is not only very interesting but very instructive, including elements of electrical engineering, telegraphy, alternating current generators, telephony, and radio instruments and apparatus.

Class-room work in Military French will be offered, every effort will be made to maintain a high standard of instruction. Apt students will not be held back by the inability of others. Enrollment will not effect the regular operation of the draft. Certificates of proficiency insure placement in the Signal Corps.

In conclusion the call is for worthy young men, who are entitled when called and properly trained to assignment to important and responsible duties. For further information write to Captain H. N. Royden, Commandant, University of Kentucky, Lexington, who is charged with the direction of the Class.

SHIP RAISED FROM BED OF OCEAN IN ONE MINUTE

Havana, Dec. 16.—A successful public demonstration of a new system for raising sunken vessels was given to-day at Regla, across the harbor from Havana, when the sixty-ton two-masted barge Regla was brought to the surface.

Four specially constructed tanks divided into two sections, one section containing acid and the other water, were attached to the bulk by divers. When all was ready a valve in each of the tanks was opened by means of lines, allowing the water in one section to mix with the acid in the other. The gases thus formed expelled the water, converting the tanks into buoys, the lifting power of which was sufficient to bring the craft to the surface and maintain it there.

Although only a few feet of one of the masts was visible above the water, the moment the valves were opened the barge began to rise, and within a minute it was floating erect. Officers of the army and navy witnessed the demonstration.

BRITISH CAPTURE PLACE RICH IN BIBLE HISTORY

London, Dec. 15.—Beersheba, recently captured by the British army in Palestine, derives its main interest from its connection with the Biblical patriarchs, and served as a residence successively to Abraham, Isaac and

Jacob. The low plateau round the town is very fertile, but cultivation is neglected by the neighboring fellahs. The district was very thickly populated in the Roman and Arab times.

On the western bank of the river are situated the two wells famous among the Arabs for the good quality of their water and for their size, the largest measuring 12 feet in diameter.

The desert of Beersheba is very beautiful in spring and early summer, but in this season of the year offers to "Tommy" nothing but a dry and parched surface with not a single tree to break the monotony of the landscape. The arable land of Palestine comes practically to an end at Beersheba, which is distant twenty-eight miles from Hebron and fifty-three miles from Jerusalem.

In the first years of the Moslem era the famous Arab general, Omar, retired there to lead an ascetic life.

Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

Those who are afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation should read the following: "I have never found anything so good for stomach trouble and constipation as Chamberlain's Tablets. I have used them off and on now for the past two years. They not only regulate the action of the bowels but stimulate the liver and keep one's body in a healthy condition," writes Mrs. Benjamin Hooper, Auburn, N. Y.

EDIBLE EARTH IS FOUND BY GERMAN SCIENTISTS

Amsterdam, Dec. 15.—In their frantic search for new food substitutes, Germans have made the discovery that so-called edible earth exists in many parts of Germany, and learned professors have lost no time in making it known that the eating of earth is by no means confined to certain savage tribes of New Guinea and South America. It was a highly esteemed delicacy, they say, during the Thirty Years' War and also in the "lean years" between 1719 and 1733.

Layers of edible earth, it is stated, have been located on the moors of Lunenburg, near Koenigsberg, in the valley of the lower Vistula and in the grand duchy of Hesse, while the Austrians, it is announced, have their own deposits of edible earth near Eger and Franzensbad, in Bohemia.

A ROMNEY STUDENT'S ESSAY UPON THE HORSE

The horse is a very noble quadruped, but when he is angry he will not do so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle, and sadly the driver places his foot on the stirrups, and divides his animal to the meadow. He has a long mouth, and his head is attached to the trunk by a long protuberance called the neck. He has four legs; two are in the front side and two are afterwards. These are weapons on which he runs, and also defends himself by extending those in the rear in a parallel direction toward his foe, but this he does only when in a voracious mood. His foodstuff is generally grasses and grains. He is also useful to take on his back a man or woman as well as some cargo. He has power to run as fast as he could. He has got no sleep at night time, and always standing awake. Also there are horses of short sizes. They do the same as the others are generally doing. There is no animal like the horse; no sooner they see their guardian or master they always crying for feeding, but it always at the morning time. They have got tall, but not so long as the cow and other such similar animals.

VICTORY FOR U. S. ARMS IN VISION TO NEGRO PASTOR

Victory for the American arms has been "revealed" to him in a vision, declares the Rev. M. W. Jones, pastor of the Green Street Colored Baptist church, 325 East Green street. The vision in which he read success for the Stars and Stripes showed him a spreading eagle, soaring above the rising sun, with the dome of the capitol in the background, declares the pastor.

The "vision" came to him Thanksgiving morning, as he awakened. Framed against the morning sun was the eagle, wings outspread, while the capitol building took form as the sun rose higher.

Study of the "revelation," the pastor declares, convinces him that it was intended to show him a sweeping victory for American arms.

The appearance of the eagle in the sun would indicate, he says, that as the sun rises, to give light to all, so do the principles advocated by the government reflect light on the whole world.

Again the appearance of the capitol shows that here laws are made which are to be accepted by the world

Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, estimates the losses up to June 1 of the British expeditionary forces in deaths in action and from wounds at 7 per cent of the total of all men sent to France since the beginning of the war. He adds that the ratio of losses of this character to-day, because of improved tactics and swift mounting allied superiority in artillery, is less than 7 to every 100 men.

RUSS AND TEUTONS SIGN ARMISTICE

CESSION OF HOSTILITIES TO LAST UNTIL JANUARY 14, THEN PEACE.

Berlin (via London), Dec. 16.—An armistice agreement between the Bolshevik government in Russia and the Teutonic allies was signed at Brest-Litovsk Saturday, according to an official communication issued today. The armistice becomes effective at noon Monday and is to remain in force until January 14.

A provision in the armistice agreement is that peace negotiations are to begin immediately after the signing of the armistice.

The text of the communication follows:

"An armistice was signed at Brest-Litovsk yesterday by plenipotentiary representatives of the Russian upper army administration on the one hand and those of the upper army administrations of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey on the other hand.

"The armistice begins at noon December 17, and remains in force until January 14, 1917. Unless seven days' notice is given it continues in force automatically. It extends to all the land, air and naval forces of the common fronts.

"According to clause 9 of the treaty, peace negotiations are to begin immediately after the signing of an armistice."

FRIVOLOUS SPENDING SCORED BY VANDERBILT

Cincinnati, Dec. 16.—A hoarded dollar is a slacker and a dollar spent for an unnecessary thing is "an ally of the enemy," Frank A. Vanderbilt director of the war savings campaign, said here tonight in one of the first addresses of a two week's speaking tour of the middle west and south. He urged purchase of war savings stamps and certificates for the double purpose of directly assisting the government to finance the war and economize on materials and energy devoted to producing non-essentials.

"There is something worse than a slacker, though. A slacker is only a negative quantity. But a dollar spent for an unnecessary thing today becomes an ally of the enemy. It is a traitor dollar, because the labor of man and woman is employed needlessly to make useless things, when the government needs that labor to make things that are essential for our soldiers in winning the war—so we must see that the dollar spent for unnecessary things is a menace to this world fight for freedom.

"It is for every person to stop and consider, before spending each dollar, into which pan of the scale they will throw it. Will they buy unnecessary things, and by the weight cast on that side of the scale contribute to our defeat, or will they refrain from the unnecessary purchases and put the dollar into the hands of the government, enabling it to buy the things the weight of which will be a real help towards victory?

"American soldiers need a vast amount of equipment. It is impossible to produce all the equipment a great army wants in the shortest possible time unless the government is amply supplied with labor.

"When you hire a man to produce for you an unnecessary article, you are competing with the government for that man's labor. By just so much you are helping to make ineffective and more dangerous the work the American soldier has to do. You are paying to make that dollar inefficient."

HIS CAMOUFLAGE

KENTUCKY RECRUITS NEEDED TO FILL RANKS IN SOUTH

Camp Shelby, Miss., Dec. 9.—"Send us men" is the appeal that goes back to Kentucky from every Kentucky guardsman in the Thirty-eighth division.

The division still is in need of a substantial force of recruits before it can move overseas. Many companies have never attained their full war strength under the new organization quota and others have lost men by transfer to various branches of the service. It is the pride of every company to keep full strength and to keep Kentuckians together, but this is only possible by recruiting men from the home towns. The One Hundred and thirty-eighth Field Artillery, formerly the First Kentucky, expects recruits from Louisville: If these forces do not come, transfers of soldiers from other units and regulars and conscription men will be necessary. The Kentuckians, Hoosiers and West Virginians agree to a man in the desire to get to France without delay. Each arrival at camp is besieged by officers and men for news of the movement of national guardsmen overseas. Every order from division headquarters is closely scanned in the hope it may contain some suggestion of an early departure. The division was completely organized under direction of Brig. Gen. Edward M. Lewis on the arrival of the last guard units from Kentucky in October.

During the last six weeks the men have been put through all practices of modern warfare. As to the readiness of the men for service, Brig. Gen. H. H. Whitney, present commander-general is noncommittal, although it is evident he and members of his staff are as anxious to move as the troops.

NEW FOODSTUFFS FOR USE IN GERMANY

Concentrated straw fodder and ground grape pips are suggested for table use in Germany. In a published list of new foodstuffs, with descriptions of use, the following are also found:

Rhubarb leaves, saweed, straw meal, crushed and ground maize ears, heather stalks, ground sugar-beet seeds, parsley seed, wild radish husks, bran, wine yeast, beechnut cake, fish meal, and various mixed foods.

Attempts have recently been made in England to establish the use of rhubarb leaves as greens, but it appears that such food is dangerous. English newspapers have reported several cases of illness following the eating of rhubarb leaf blades.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR CARE OF INJURED SOLDIERS

The receiving hospital for United States soldiers brought back from Europe, to be established at Staten Island, N. Y., will have a capacity of 2,500 beds. This marks the beginning of a comprehensive plan for the care of soldiers who are disabled in the line of duty. It will be used only for distribution.

From the Staten Island institution men will be transferred to general or special treatment hospitals, sites for which are now being selected throughout the country. Whenever possible, injured soldiers will be sent to places near their own homes. They will be fitted for trades to which they are adapted, and at the time of discharge the Government will assist them in returning to their proper places in industry.

And Father Pays The Bills.

"How is Robert getting on at college?" asked the minister, who was being entertained at dinner.

"Splendidly," said the proud father, who then went on to tell of his son's various social, athletic and scholastic successes, and the minister said it was a fine thing to be college bred. That evening little aches, who had been an interesting listener, said: "Papa, what did Mr. Brown mean by college bred?"

"Oh, that," said papa, who had been looking over his son's bills, "is a four years' loaf."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MOTHER KNEW PAPA.

Little Tommy, who is of rather an inquiring turn of mind, and who had been gazing at his father's somewhat rosy countenance for some time, at last asked:

"Papa, what makes your face and nose so red?"

"The east wind, of course," answered papa, rather hastily. "Do not talk so much, Thomas, and pass me the beer."

It was then that a voice came from the other end of the table in dulcet tones, saying:

"Tommy, dear, pass you papa the east wind, and be careful not to spill it on the clean cloth."—Tit-Bits.

Nothing Doing.

"I knew who has the lost money," stated the visitor.

FIRST STEP FOR HEBREW ENTITY

MOVEMENT LAUNCHED BY JEWS TO REALIZE CHERISHED DREAM OF YEARS.

Baltimore, Dec. 16.—Two hundred leaders of the Zionist organization of the country launched at a convention here to-day the great movement to realize Jewish national entity as a result of the recapture of Palestine from Turkey.

"An historic gathering," Nathan Straus, of New York, termed it, amid cheers. It was the first concrete step toward the achievement of the national character taken by the Jews of the world, and intimation was given during the meeting that a practical reoccupation of the Holy Land would be under way within a month or two.

Seek Immense Fund.

A cable was received from London stating that physicians and nurses and medical units could go to Palestine within another month, and it was informally announced that the American Jewish Unit, organized by the Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization of the country, is ready to begin work in Palestine at once.

The outlines of an international Jewish fund of $100,000,000 to make the Jewish reoccupation real and practical were given and within a few minutes $85,000 was realized toward an initial $1,000,000 of the international fund with which to begin the reestablishment of the "promised land."

Gratitude To Britain.

The $100,000,000 fund is to be used for constructive and administrative work in the new Jewish State. The delegates were primed to return to their homes to form local organizations to raise funds for the national treasury.

A resolution of gratitude to Great Britain for the liberality of its declaration endorsing the re-establishment of Palestine as the national home for the Jews was passed. Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis, of the Supreme Court of the United States, appeared unexpectedly, and extended his congratulations to the Zionists for the prospective realization of their dreams.

A resolution was adopted at the night session naming the $100,000,000 "constructive and administrative fund," and arranging for the raising of the initial $1,000,000 within sixty days. To handle this fund a national finance commission of five was chosen, made up as follows:

Eugene Meyer, Jr., New York administrative chairman; Nathan Straus, vice chairman; E. W. Lewis-Epstein, treasurer, both of New York, and Henry Alsburg, New York, secretary.

Price fixing by the government is causing a sugar famine all over the country. The experiment was doomed to failure from the beginning. The government can control prices of products a surplus of which is produced in this country, but it is wholly impractical to undertake to fix prices of commodities which must be imported. The reason is apparent. As in the case of sugar, a part

Both Houses of Congress have voted to submit to the States an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for national prohibition, and we believe there is no reason to doubt that three-fourths of the States will ratify it within seven years as provided by the resolution. We favor trying the experiment. No man can certainly foresee the involved results of such a radical attempt to regulate a custom almost as old as the human race, but at least the experiment will point the way toward a final regulation of the most demor-alizing business that ever cursed the human race.

Advices from Washington strong-will offer the States a constitutional amendment for national woman suf-of the States to ratify a constituthat woman suffrage will come by national route for some years to come.

The southern States, having a large negro population, will of course reject it, and they constitute almost one-fourth of the States. Our women friends who want the exalted privilege of the ballot had better turn their attention to the State Legislatures for the present, at least.

It is the serious duty of every American citizen to heed the warnings of the government in the matter of practicing the most rigid economy in saving food products. Before the growing of another crop more than a million farm laborers will have been transferred from the fields of the farms to those of war, and this with the tremendous exports of food products to feed the armies of Europe will make an appalling draft upon our supply of foodstuffs.
This condition must necessarily grow serious, and if we are to avoid starvation or bread riots among the poor we must begin saving now.

Every citizen in Hartford and in the county as well should lend a helping hand in developing the Red Cross movement. No worthier object could engage the attention of those who are fortunate enough to enjoy the associations and comforts of home while our boys brave the tempest of war to rescue mankind from the dominion of the Hunnish sword. The purpose of the Red Cross is to demonstrate to our boys at the front that every energy of action and every emotion of love of their friends at home is being devoted to their welfare and support. It is an honor roll upon which every name should appear, and let us have no slackers while this duty calls. Join a chapter if you have to organize one yourself in order to do so.

We are pleased to note that our own Judge, R. W. Slack is being mentioned in high Republican circles for Judge of the Court of Appeals from this district. While we should be sorry to see Judge Slack taken from the very excellent work he is doing as Circuit Judge, we should be pleased to see him honored with a seat in the highest court in the State, for which position he is eminently fitted, both as a lawyer and a man.
In his two years on the bench in this district Judge Slack has demonstrated his ability to perform the functions of the highest court of the State, and he would probably be the strongest man the Republicans could nominate for Judge of the Court of Appeals.
If the party and the people should elect to elevate Judge Slack to the Appellate Court, Ohio county can offer the district a lawyer of ability and experience to fill the vacancy, in the person of the present very able and capable Commonwealth's Attorney, Mr. C. E. Smith. Besides his splendid fitness for the office Mr.
Smith has behind him an unbroken record for political successes, having been twice elected County Attorney of Ohio county, and afterward sharing with Judge Slack the honor of carrying for the first time for the Republicans, this judicial district.

STRAY STREAKS.

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Caesar Hines, who cleans up at the Citizens Bank, says there is nothin' doin' when it comes to a "pore nigger" picking up a lose jitney where Roll Riley labors.

By-the-way, Caesar cleans up at the other Bank also, and on being pressed as to his findings there, the aforesaid janitor said there was about as many chances to find stray 5 dollar Williams where Mut Hunter toils as there were for picking up nickels afloat at Riley's shop. He said he didn't never find nothin' at neither Bill Shaving Emporium.

Editor Thomas and Arthur Kirk, who room together, decided during one of the recent cold days that they would both occupy one bed on the following night. It seems that Kirk arrived at their room ahead of Thomas (though it is not definitely known as to time of arrival of either) and after thinking himself warm, proceeded to get into the bed usually occupied by his room mate. Thomas arrived, and the room being somewhat dark, warmed his shins, tired of waiting for Kirk and crawled into the bed known as Kirk's. Each of course retired thinking the other was out (an Thomas of course was). They both got up the next morning at the same time and it is said that they missed their breakfast in trying to make some sort of explanation, and the more they explained the worse the tangle became. Feeling between the two is such that they don't and won't talk about slumbering in the same bed any more.

Speaking of Thomas and the cold weather, reminds me of the fact that the Editor has some sort of tin looking watch that absolutely refuses to run when taken out of his pocket for the night. Kirk says the minute all of the animal heat leaves the Ingersoll it dies. In other words it's just a hot weather time piece.

We saw more snow shoveled off of the streets here in 15 minutes, one day this week than during all of the months of April, May, June, July, August and September, of last year.
Yes, Betsy, we are doing things these days.

This whole country is surrounded by water, so they tell me, but they are going to keep monkeying with things here, there and yonder until it gets so daddummed dry that Old Barnum & Bailey wouldn't even attempt to exhibit a camel in it.

We asked Capt. Dyer White how he accounted for the formation of such unusually thick ice on the river at this time. Cap said he'd be darned if he knew unless it was due to the carelessness of the blamed Lock Keeper in leaving the gates open.

A. Rial says he was trying to pop some corn some days ago and could not get his daddummed roaster to warm up at all; he attempted to turn the burner up a bit to get more blaze when the whole top fell off. He said on examination he found the durned burner, blaze and all were frozen as stiff as a stick.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express and tender my heartfelt thanks to those who so nobly and willingly assisted in ministering to my departed wife, in her last illness. Your kindly ministra-tions and encouraging words and actions are a relief and comfort to her friends and myself as well.

Sincerely,
M. S. BARTLETT.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG.

(By I. D. Claire.)

I don't care anything about the high cost of grub. It's the high cost of board that's worryin' me.

If anybody is goin' to give Arthur Kirk any Christmas presents I suggest sex. Me an' Arthur room together, an' I know what he needs worst.

But Nell says he thinks that terrible bilkard last week was caused by a German spy monkeying with the weather factory.

There is so many of the boys goin' to the army now that there is goin' to be a lot of weddin's that won't take place.

One argument agin our goin' to war with Germany is that it will overstock the country with old moids.

The M. H. & E. train is a great accommodation to the drummers. It stops at each station long enough for them to work the town.

The Germans are still holding their ground; and, incidentally, they are holding a big slice of the other fellow's ground.

The President's man House seems to be a sort of Third House.

A certain member of the Ohio County Fuel Commission, who happens to be a bachelor, is the occasion of three or four extra parlor fires a week. He should marry the girl or resign his office.

Thomas and Tinsley are going to plant a five acre vineyard next spring.
They contemplate a grape juice plant provided they do not have the misfortune to let the juice get too sour.

None of by Christmas presents has arrived yet. My friends must have shipped them by the M. H.

Tinsley says if there are any good things in this paper next week he is entitled to the credit for it, as Thomas will be in Louisville, and if anything appears that ain't good, it will be something Thomas wrote before he left.

I have some little literary taste, but just now I wouldn't exchange a bushel of coal for a copy of the "Beautiful Snow."

NOTICE:

I shall quit the photograph business in Ohio county Dec. 20th. If you want photographic work done take advantage of this last opportunity and come.

All work will be promptly finished.

COSSACKS ARE NOW IN POSSESSION OF ROSTOV

London, Dec. 19.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Post says that the Cossacks finally occupied Rostov on Monday. The infantry joined the Cossacks, the rear guards surrendering.
Gen. Kalendes, Hetman of the Cossacks, has proposed to the Bolsheviki Government that civil strife cease, stipulating the independence of the Don territory and nonintervention by the Maximalists.

JUDGE SLACK BOOSTED.

Judge R. W. Slack, of this District for Appellate Judge Discussed by Politicians.

Writing in the Louisville Times last Saturday, Will Kaltenbacher, the political dopest for that paper, has the following to say about Judge R. W. Slack, of Owensboro, for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals, which officer is to be elected for this district next year.

The name of Judge Robert W. Slack, of Owensboro, is being prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Second Appellate district. This news was brought to Louisville by a member of the Republican State Central Committee, who stated that Judge Slack was being boomed all over the district for the new honor. Judge Slack is the present Circuit Judge of the judicial district composed of Daviess, McLean, Hancock and Ohio counties, and his feat of winning in a strong Democratic district two years ago is still the talk in political circles. Should he become a candidate, which is regarded as extremely likely, his friends assert that he would prove a formidable factor for his party's nomination.

A DEATH TRIBUTE.

On the 23rd day of July, 1917, it pleased God to call from our midst to mansions eternal one of our noble young men, Raymond Debruler. Raymond was 25 years old at the time of his death which occurred at the home of his christian mother, Mrs. Nora Debruler. It was by the kind christian influence of his devoted mother that Raymond was led early in life to accept Christ. He was a member of the Pleasant Grove Baptist church, and led a consistent and devoted christian life. He was an industrious and successful farmer, and enjoyed the confidence and respect of every body who knew him. His remains were placed by the side of those of his father in the Whittinghill cemetery, July 24th.

May God's Holy Spirit comfort the bereaved family, and may his influence lead the brothers and sisters to prepare to meet him when they are called to go. A FRIEND.

SOLOM TAKES ARMS.

Congressman Royal C. Johnson, from the Second South Dakota district, has enlisted as a private in the National Army. Congressman Johnson, is a Republican, is 35 years old and has a wife and two children. He was serving his second term in Congress. The fighting Congressman was born in Iowa but removed to South Dakota when a child, and held many positions of honor in that State before he was elected to Congress in 1915. He is serving his second term in Congress, and will not resign. He is the first member of Congress to give up his seat in that body to enlist as a private.

THE BEAUTIFUL GULF COAST

MOBILE, ALABAMA.

"Mother of Mystics."

So! "Here we Rest," according to the meaning of the word "Alabama." We are at a terminal of a delightful trip on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

The early explorers did well when they founded the French colonies, which were begun under the brothers de Bienville and d'Iberville.

Mobile lies at the mouth of the Mobile river, which is formed by the junction of the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers. Many products of the interior come down these rivers; cotton and lumber in large quantities is seen, and coal from further north.

Mobile harbor affords accommodation at her wharfs for both commercial and tourist traffic. The city of Mobile is some thirty miles from the Gulf of Mexico and it is a delightful said up the broad winding entrance to this city—Mobile—which has a population of 75,000 souls.

From the water's edge there is a gradual rise of the land which leads to attractive hills and ravines, upon which are located beautiful southern homes—old and new—and the shell roads are a boon to the automobilist.

There are a few cities in the world which possess so many beautiful streets that might be termed boulevards. Some of them resemble small portions of Paris, France, or Brussels, Belgium—as it was before the present devastation from the European War.

These streets in Mobile are lined with some Monarchs of a century of Nature's production—the grand old elms and water oaks, and not a few are embellished by the hoary gray hanging moss that sways with the passing breezes. Government street is the most imposing, and branching from it are many attractive park-like streets—made beautiful through the care of up-to-date civic co-operation.

There can scarcely be found a drive more beautiful—by Nature's own painting—than along Mobile Bay, by sunset in the summer time, or at Autumn it is one never to be forgotten.

Mobile is a city of education, culture and perhaps interesting conservatism, yet it is a city of true hospitality, with a touch of what remains of the old regime of French, English and Spanish. It is a city that has been "under five ages," and many of its people bear the distinctive features of their ancestors, in its many fine looking and even beautiful women, and courteous "old school" men.

Mobile is fast becoming an all-year-round resort, with fine Hotels, and all centering around its historic and beautiful Bienville Square.

Mobile is often called "The Mother of Mystics," because she was the first to originate the "Mardi Gras," and she yearly still calls thousands to herself at that festival time.

Those desiring out-door recreation will find it in and around Mobile, in abundance. Small steamers ply between her suburban health resorts—beautiful Fairhope, Battles Wharf, Point Clear, Magnolia Springs and other attractive spots; which are made more beautiful by Nature's hand, and where health-giving ozone is freely given from the Gulf of Mexico.

In addition, Mobile has excellent golf links, a fine Country Club, plenty of good fishing and automobilism over roads that cannot be surpassed.

Od Mobile is unlike any other city on the Gulf. She has her own attractions, as well as those of her surroundings. A few weeks stay there and mangling with her people cannot be but well spent. She is also a city of Clubs, and genuine hospitality. A Tourist Welcome Club, among others, heartily welcomes all visitors to this city of de Bienville and d'Iberville—Carlyle Porter.

Mobile is located in the beautiful Gulf Coast region and conveniently reached from the north by the superb steel passenger trains of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.—Advertisement,

The Human Factors In Good Service

There are three parties to every telephone conversation—the party calling, the trained operator, and the party who answers. All three share alike the responsibility for quick and accurate telephone service.

The calling party should give the correct number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the transmitter, and wait at the telephone until the party answers or the operator reports. The called party should answer promptly.

Patience on the part of the telephone user and the telephone operator is also essential to good service.

Farm Department

When selling eggs to the country merchant or cash buyer, insist that the transaction be on a quality basis.

In general farming the size of the farm is a very important factor. The farm should be large enough to give the working force available to the farmer a maximum of productive labor through the year.

Small or dirty eggs should not be placed on the market. Use them at home.

Cereals and other food should be kept in glass jars or tin cans when possible. This will keep rats, mice, and vermin away.

Shell Seed Corn By Hand.

Seed corn should always be shelled by hand, says the United States Department of Agriculture, which advises care in every step connected with seed selection.

After seed corn has been selected from the most productive stalks as they stand in the field in competition with other surrounding stalks, and stored in a dry place free from insects and rodents, the job is only half done. Shelling is one of the most important of the tasks.

Seed ears should first be shelled and the kernels from tip and butt should be discarded from the seed supply. The small kernels from the tips are less productive than the other kernels on the ear; the blunt, thick, rounded kernels from the butts are just as productive as any of the rest, but because of their shape and size they do not plant uniformly when used in a corn planter with other kernels.

Shelling by Hand Profitable.

Shelling by hand takes more time and labor but is profitable. The mechanical corn sheller is likely to injure the germ tips of the individual grains, and to thus destroy or impair their power to germinate. No matter how large the required supply, says the department, it will still pay to shell it painstakingly by manual labor, because the greater the acreage to be planted, the greater the ultimate profit.

Each ear should be shelled separately into a shallow pan or box, and every blighted, misshapen, or worm-eaten kernel should be rejected. As the seed from each ear is found satisfactory and sound, and free from poor kernels, it is poured into the general supply, and another ear is shelled in the same way. It is much easier to pick out defective grains from a single layer in a small receptacle than from a large mingled quantity in a bushel measure or a bag.

Rat-Proof Homes.

In constructing dwelling houses the additional cost of making the foundations rat-proof is slight, compared with the advantages, says a recent Farmers' Bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture, "House Rats and Mice." The cellar walls, should have concrete footings, and the walls themselves should be laid in cement mortar. The cellar floor should be of medium rather than lean concrete. Even old cellars may be made rat-proof at comparatively small expense. Rat holes may be permanently closed with a mixture of cement, sand, and broken glass, or sharp bits of crockery or stone.

Wooden Dwellings May Be Protected

On a foundation like the one described above, the walls of a wooden dwelling also may be made rat-proof. The space between the sheathing and lath, to the height of about a foot, should be filled with concrete. Rats can not then gain access to the walls, and can enter the dwelling only through doors or windows. Screening all basement and cellar windows with wire netting is a most necessary precaution.

In both city and country, wooden floors of sidewalks, areas, and porches are commonly laid upon timbers on the ground. Under such floors rats have a safe retreat from nearly all enemies. The conditions can be remedied in towns by municipal action requiring that these floors be replaced by others made of cement. Areas or walks made of brick are often undermined by rats and may become as objectionable as those of wood. Wooden floors of porches should always be well above the ground.

Make Bees Comfortable.

Failure to insulate the bottom of the hive largely offsets the value of insulation around the hive in the outdoor wintering of bees, according to the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture. Experiments conducted with a number of insulated hives showed that much heat was lost from the unprotected hive bottom.

Beekeepers have repeatedly claimed that excessive insulation is even more detrimental in winter than insufficient insulation, because of the failure of the colony to warm up on bright days. To test this theory, a colony was packed in the fall with 16 inches of sawdust on all sides, top and bottom. Temperature records were made at frequent intervals every day throughout the winter and spring. The colony remained in excellent condition in every respect throughout the winter, being little affected by high winds, and after brood rearing began it built up with great rapidity. Then, to continue observations on the effect of insulation on the building up of the colony, the packing was allowed to remain all summer. Except for the impossibility of manipulating the colony, it remained in excellent condition. It seems clear, therefore, that beekeepers need not fear detrimental results from abundant insulation at any season of the year.

A splendid premium list has been prepared for the State Corn Show this year, and classes have been so arranged that any corn grower has a chance to compete successfully in one or more classes. Many of the prizes are of exceptional value, and well worth the best efforts of anyone to win. For instance, the sweepstakes prize for 10 ears of corn is worth about $85. The special prize for 3 ears shelling the largest percentage of grain is worth $75. In the other classes proportionately as good premiums are provided.

The show will be judged by Mr. L. H. Clore, of LaPorte, Indiana. Mr.

Clore is known the country over as a successful grower of show corn. He has been a successful competitor at a great majority of the National Corn Shows that have been held in this country. Mr. Clore is now Treasurer of the Federal Land Bank located at Louisville.

In addition to judging the corn, Mr. Clore will give an address before the farmers on Corn Growers' Day. His subject will be "Corn Improvement Work." He will also discuss the advantages of the farm loan act.

It is the farmer's duty to himself and to his country to do his best. In this connection, mention should be made of "Farmers' Week" to be held at the Agricultural College at Lexington January 23 to February 1. This will be a series of meetings of various farmers' and breeders' associations of Kentucky. In addition, the college will provide a most instructive set of demonstrations and lectures that will be of great help to farmers in their efforts to produce maximum crops next summer.

There will be competitive shows of alfalfa, corn, dairy products and women's work.

Everybody is welcome. Everything is free.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

Chamberlain's Tablets are intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and have met with much success in the treatment of those diseases. People who have suffered for years with stomach trouble and have been unable to obtain any permanent relief, have been completely cured by the use of these tablets. Chamberlain's Tablets are also of great value for biliousness. Chronic constipation may be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and observing the plain printed directions with each bottle.

ALIEN ENEMIES RECEIVE FAIR TREATMENT AND PAY

The interned Germans at the station at Hot Springs, N. C., are not prisoners of war. They comprise officers and crews of the German merchant vessels which were held in the United States at the time of the declaration of war.

These aliens receive no funds from the Government except compensation for labor actually performed. These engaged in construction work get $20 a month, with an additional $5 to foremen. Interned officers have not been permitted to receive from any source more than $10 a month and crewmen not more than $5. Receipts in excess of these amounts are placed to the credit of the aliens in banks.

Three plain but substantial meals are prepared each day. There is no waste, the same measures of economy and conservation which are being urged upon every American housewife being practiced at Hot Springs.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Ohio, Kentucky, to be held at Hartford and Beaver Dam, on Jan. 12, 1913. To fill the position of rural carrier at Reynolds Station and Centertown, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to male citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

CLEAN FLUES WITH OLD BATTERIES

State fire marshals and others have recommended, as a remedy for sooty chimneys, that a discarded dry-cell battery thrown into the stove or furnace supplies sufficient zinc to do the trick. There is nothing much more useless seemingly than one of these used-up batteries and the suggestion will no doubt meet with hearty acceptance. If no battery is available, a small piece of scrap zinc will answer the purpose. The elimination of soot from chimneys is one of the most effective remedies for shingle-roof fires—next to replacing the combustible roof with some material that is fireproof or fire-resistant.—Rough Notes.

CROP PRICES AND DOLLAR VALUES

Commodity Prices Are High, but Crops Are Higher—The Dollar Is Cheap.

When is a dollar not a dollar? Relative values shift so rapidly these days that a dollar has no definite value. It is merely a question of how much of the commodity you want, you can get for the commodity you have to exchange—whether that commodity be labor, live stock, corn or wheat.

A bushel of corn will buy more fertilizer now than it would in 1914.

Every purchase must be considered on the basis of relative values rather than dollar values.

The high quotations for spring fertilizers have caused many farmers to ask whether it will be possible to use fertilizers at a profit next season. The answer to this question may be found by a comparison of the relative purchasing power of crops before the war and at the present time.

In 1914 the usual corn fertilizer cost $21 per ton. Today the same fertilizer costs around $32 per ton—an increase of 50 per cent. In 1914 corn was worth about 60 cents per bushel, taking the country over. Today it sells at not less than $1.30 per bushel, on the farm—more than 100 per cent increase.

The same calculation could be made for wheat, potatoes, or almost any other crop (excepting in the case of those fertilizers containing potash).

Each individual farmer has merely to consider whether fertilizers paid before the war; if so they will pay even better now.

WHY FERTILIZER PRICES HAVE ADVANCED.

Cannon and crops use the same food. Six hundred thousand tons of nitrates went to make explosives last year, in the United States alone.

Sulphuric acid necessary for the manufacture of acid phosphate is normally made from Spanish sulphur ores. Submarines have now almost entirely cut off this supply.

Brimstone, used as a substitute source of sulphur, must be transported by rail at great expense from Louisiana and Texas, since the government has found it necessary to commandeer sulphur-carrying boats.

Large quantities of phosphate rock from Florida and Tennessee must now go by rail at high freight rates. Uncle Sam needs the boats. Higher labor, machinery, coal and supply costs have caused a general advance in all raw materials, varying from 25 to 100 per cent.

Burlap bags which normally cost 10 cents each, now cost 25 cents and are scarce at that.

Labor which was plentiful in 1914 at $2.00 per day is now almost unobtainable at $3.50 per day. There can be but one answer to conditions such as these; namely, high-priced fertilizers.

WHAT CAUSED FOOD SHORTAGE?

Herbert Hoover, U. S. Food Administrator, says there have been two principal reasons to account for the present food shortage. First, the "unkindness of nature," including the late spring, droughts, hurricanes, poor conditions of rainfall, unexpected frosts and periods of intense heat in sections throughout the world.

Second, he gives "reduced productivity of the soil in Europe." Concerning this, Hoover says: "This condition has been brought about by bad management, unskilled work, and lack of fertilizers; and these in turn can be explained by the withdrawal of men from farm and field to army and factory, and the employment on the soil of overworked women, unskilled old men and listless prisoners. Furthermore the vicious submarine has sunk boat after boat filled with nitrates and fertilizers, conspiring to augment the pauperization of the earth, so that reduction in soil productivity was inevitable."

ARMIES ARE NEEDED AT HOME.

If this war is to be won, we shall have to put several armies in the field, the army of soldiers in the trenches, the army of food producers in the furrows, the women's army of food conservers, beating back the attacks of that world-old camp follower of war-famine, and a patriotic army of civilians in the business and political world. — The Banker-Farmer, Oct., 1917.

FARMERS AND THE WORLD WAR.

The farmer's tools of production in wartime become of importance second only to the needs of the army itself. Food production is a patriotic duty, and the farmer is in the second line of defense. Every effort is needed to increase production, to feed our armies and allies. Food prices are forced higher because the demand is increased greatly and the supply is limited.

HOLIDAY NECESSITIES

It was certainly very fortunate for the boys and girls of our great country, as well as our Soldier Boys, that OLD SANTA CLAUS was too old to be drafted in our army for service in France.

Old Santa's distribution of Christmas cheer will cover a much wider field than ever before in the history of America. Our boys across the sea and in the great camps of our own land will make much extra work for old KRIS KRINKLE. According to our usual custom, we have assembled an enormous supply of everything Old Santa will need on his Christmas Eve trip.
